French Forces Within 2 Miles Of Laon

Invaders' Hold On France Loosened; The British Are Closing In On Cambrai

LONDON, April 18.—French forces smashed their way to within two miles of Laon today. British troops coincidentally began closing in about Cambrai while still maintaining their stranglehold about St. Quentin and Lens.

The fighting along the whole of this vast front was bitter. French and British guns roared unceasingly, literally pulverizing the German defenses. The French apparently were the most active in the day's fighting. The official report revealed another thrust "in Champagne"—presumably at a different point from where General Nivelle's men have registered their brilliant successes in the past few days, forcing the Germans behind their second line defenses.

Chivry, taken in the French sweep around Laon is only two miles distant from that city. The other points mentioned by the French official statement show an encircling movement about Laon that must force its fall into the hands of the French very shortly.

Lens and St. Quentin are both so far encircled by British forces now that their capture will be easy at any time. In the meantime, however, the British commander-in-chief apparently is butting a way toward Cambrai.

BERLIN (Via London)—April 18.—"Our prisoners on the Aisne were increased today over three thousand," declared today's official statement. The war office said today that following a failure to advance yesterday, the French under the effect of their heavy losses and exhausted condition did not continue "an attempt today, the object of which was to pierce our lines."

PETROGRAD, April 18.—Reports of attack by three enemy companies in the region to the east of Koto Mikhael (northern front) by rifle and artillery fire, was announced in the official statement today.

PARIS, April 18.—France is loosening the grip of the invader on her soil. Battering blows struck bewilderingly fast and mixed with countless feints all along the Arras-to-Rheims front by British and French troops are shaking the Hindenburg line. Today it was France's turn to strike the most powerful blows—and General Nivelle's men forced their way to within sight of Laon. "Despite the weather and the great difficulties of transporting heavy guns, the French offensive is progressing in the most satisfactory manner," declared Jules Cambon, of the foreign office, speaking for the government today.

"The Germans have been forced to transfer troops from the British and Belgian fronts to aid their defenders on the line of battle. 'The French are confident of the successful issue of the offensive.'"

PARIS, April 18.—France has made her gains in the world's greatest offensive movement against an army that expected the blows and had massed gigantic reserves to stop it. They have not stopped it. The magnitude of the French achievement is all the more notable for this reason.

Four million men are probably engaged in that one sector of the great allied offensive where the French are hammering. It is the biggest battle for France since the Marne. No previous conflict has ever seen this record-breaking number of men engaged. Nor has any conflict been marked by such a tremendous concentration of artillery.

"Success achieved by French troops has been more important than the initial announcements indicate," declared the Echo De Paris today. "The German crown prince has been expecting an offensive. The French had postponed it a number of times because of unfavorable weather. In the meantime the crown prince massed gigantic reserves to meet the expected blow."

Paris believed today a victory overshadowing that achieved on the Marne, is in sight. One of the first fruits of the success so far is of sentimental interest here. Battle front dispatches declare the Germans have now been driven from heights about Rheims from which they have been wont in the past, in pure revenge, to deluge that city with shells. Rheims was the revenge spot. If the Germans suffered a defeat anywhere, they started a bombardment of Rheims and its cathedral in reprisal.

PERISCOPE OF SUB SEEN BY CREW

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—All doubt that a submarine actually fired at the U. S. destroyer Smith was swept aside today when a report direct from the Smith said the officer on watch actually saw a periscope four hundred yards from the vessel.

The statement of the officer was substantiated by the quartermaster and gun crew. Up to today some navy men had thought perhaps the Smith was mistaken. The message said in substance: "Officer on watch saw periscope four hundred yards away. Submarine disappeared. Wake of torpedo then crossed starboard bow. Quartermaster and gun crew substantiated officer's statement. Officer and gun crew all experienced torpedo men."

BOSTON, April 18.—A suggestion in shipping circles that the lookout on the U. S. destroyer Smith had perhaps mistaken a large fish for a torpedo in the uncertain light of the early morning, met with the reply that the Smith's officers "stood by their original statement."

Vote For Subway System

CINCINNATI, April 18.—Cincinnati began today the preparatory work of building a $6,000,000 subway system following a special election yesterday when the voters by a majority of 2 to 1 authorized the construction of the system which will be leased to the Cincinnati Traction company which operates the present surface lines. Cincinnati also elected fifteen charter commissioners to frame a charter. The ticket endorsed by the Republican organization won.

SHOTS OFF EAST COAST INDICATE NAVAL BATTLE

BOSTON, Mass., April 18.—Lieutenant Edward G. Blakelee, U. S. N., communication officer of the first district at Charleston navy yard, announced today that heavy firing was reported off Provincetown, Mass., by three different coast guard stations.

The first report was received at 9:15 from coast guard patrol station 32 located at Provincetown Bay. This station reported that they first heard 15 shots from heavy guns and after an interval of 15 minutes heavy firing was heard. They reported the firing as due north.

The second report arrived at 9:30 from coast guard station 33 at Race Point and told of hearing shots from five or six guns and continuous firing after an interval of 15 minutes. They characterized the firing as heavy and occurring in rapid succession.

The third report was received at 9:35 from station 34 at Peaked Bars Hill which gave the direction as northeast by north and stated that the firing was heavy and continuous and seemed to be from three guns. They also reported that heavy firing was heard at intervals since the first shots.

None of the stations gave any indication as to the time that the first shots were heard. Officers at the Charleston navy yard declared that they were at a loss to account for the firing.

Wall Street Perturbed Over Method Of Floating Bonds

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Wall street is much perturbed over the proposed method of floating the seven billion dollar bond issue.

J. P. Morgan and other financiers of the country are in Washington today attempting to have the present floating plan modified so as to show a little more consideration for the "street."

Their fears are: That appeal for popular subscription to the issue will result in many investors in stocks unwilling to purchase the government bonds because they are exempt from taxation. That if this is done there will be a falling market and the big New York and Chicago financiers will be unable to sell the bonds at a rate of only 3 1/2 per cent.

"The street" feels that the bulk of the great issue must necessarily fall on the New York financiers for purchase. Therefore they want the issue to carry a higher rate of interest so that they may successfully re-distribute them.

They also don't want the bonds exempted from taxation. The administration is deaf to these appeals. The issue will be launched through the treasury department without provision of commissions. It is the purpose to make the first issue between two billion and three billion dollars, depending largely on the immediate needs of the allies. This question will be settled

SENATE UNANIMOUSLY PASSES WAR FUND BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Raising an army of two million men in two years is the next step confronting the nation.

The great seven billion dollar bond issue bill is now virtually a law. The senate having unanimously passed it with minor amendments last night, an agreement by conferees of house and senate was expected by the time both houses convene today at noon. The president was expected to sign the measure this afternoon.

Once the army measure is disposed of government espionage and other similar war measures will be taken up. While congress proceeds with war legislation, diplomatic problems, particularly the Russian situation, are receiving serious thought. Means of solidifying Russian sentiment and action against German intrigue and peace overtures will doubtless be one of the chief topics of the American-Allied commissions.

ALL ANGLING FOR PEACE

LONDON, April 18.—Reports persisted here today that Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey were all angling for separate peace agreements with the Entente through secret emissaries. The move was said to center in Switzerland. No confirmation was obtainable here.

Quarter Of A Million Strike In Germany

BERLIN (Via London)—April 18.—Promises by the government to improve the food situation and to include workmen in the membership of a commission on distribution of supplies were expected to improve Germany's general strike situation today. A census taken late last night showed about 250,000 workmen participating in the strike. The government leaders claimed many of these had decided to resume work today.

Ohio Clocks May Be Moved Forward An Hour

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—Clocks throughout Ohio may be moved forward an hour to give "more daylight" for raising "war" crops.

Governor Cox today said he likely will issue a proclamation calling for this step in communities throughout the state, except where eastern time already has been adopted.

At the same time a proclamation may go out to mayors of all Ohio cities urging strictest enforcement of vagrancy laws.

"There is no place in Ohio today for the laggard," Cox declared today. "What food we shall produce will be needed for the men called to the colors and for those who serve in the productive pursuits at home. The man who will not work shall go to jail or be forced to work. Let the loafers be branded as vagrants and treated as such."

Fred C. Croxton, Columbus, has been appointed labor member of the newly organized state council for defense. Croxton will supervise the 21 employment bureaus in various sections of the state.

Chile Censures Brazil's Action

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 18.—Brazil is stirred to resentment today by receipt of a note from the Chilean government declaring Brazil's break with Germany, "creates a deplorable condition."

With the war spirit running rampant and the public and government officials strongly believing in adoption of Brazil's attitude by many of her neighboring republics, the Chilean expression came as a distinct shock. Chile is one of the A. B. C. group with Brazil and Argentina and it has been confidently expected that even if Chile was not desirous of breaking relations with Germany, she would at least cautiously indicate her approval of that step. Argentine is believed to be slowly swinging behind Brazil and with the United States.

House Committee Favors Changing The Eligible Ages, 21 To 40 Years

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—The house committee late this afternoon agreed to change the eligible ages in the army bill both for volunteers and conscription from 19 to 25, to from 21 to 40 years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Evidence grew today that congress, in the end, will grudgingly and in a modified form that will let it "out from under," pass President Wilson's selective conscription bill for raising an army to two million men.

Under personal pressure from the president himself, who made a hurried trip to the capitol to urge speedy action, the senate committee quickly reported out the administration's measure with promise of immediate senate action. Several committee members who still insist on the volunteer system, however, declared their intention to fight to the last on the senate floor. The senate committee vote favorably reporting the bill was close—ten to seven.

In the meantime house opposition to any kind of conscription—until volunteering is first tried—which had appeared to crumble somewhat over night, sprung up again seemingly stronger than ever before.

The military committee voted twelve to eight in favor of trying out a measure that would empower the president to put into effect his selective system.

After this vote the military committee appointed a subcommittee to draft a substitute measure with the volunteer feature.

Such a plan means that congressmen, who fear "the folks back home" will never return them to congress if they voted for conscription, can thus let themselves out and put the whole responsibility on the administration's shoulders, since the proposed bill would empower the president to order a conscription system into effect without any more action by congress.

Later this afternoon the house military committee instead of formulating a substitute measure formally adopted by thirteen to eight an amendment to the administration bill authorizing the president to use the volunteer system to get 500,000 men and giving him additional authority to employ the draft system at any time. The amendment is so worded that the president could go right ahead with the selective conscription system without recourse to the volunteer system provision.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—In anticipation of speedy action by congress on the draft bill,

150 SALOONS VOTED OUT IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, April 18.—Illinois "drys" are elated today over yesterday's election which from early official returns placed more than 150 saloons out of business. Danville, the largest town in Illinois, outside of the state capital, voted into the prohibition column, voted out seventy-two saloons by a 232 majority. Danville is the home of "Uncle Joe" Cannon. Morris county seat of Grundy county, was carried by the "dry" forces by 167, thereby eliminating twenty saloons. Waukegan showed sixteen saloons out of 39 votes and Elgin kicked ten out by a margin of 64 votes. Besides winning back West Chicago and Gardner in Grundy county by close margins, the wets carried Galena, Havana, Carlisle, Tamm, Elmhurst, Nauvoo by small majorities.

ARGENTINE SEIZES SHIPS

BUENOS AIRES, April 18.—Argentine formally took all German interned ships "into custody" today. The official explanation was the action was to prevent German crews from damaging their vessels.

Officially the government has not yet announced its course on the submarineing of the Monte Protegido.

A formal statement issued today pointed out that all casualties in Saturday's rioting were foreigners except the policemen killed.

the war department this afternoon had nearly completed plans to have the first levy of 500,000 men in training camps by August first. The first levy would be selected by lot.

Figures compiled by the department show that there are about seven million between the ages of 19 and 25 in the country, of whom about sixty per cent would be available for service. From those, by lot the first levy would be picked.

It is planned to set the same registration day throughout the nation. Voting precincts will be made the places of registration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Determined to rush his selective conscription bill through congress with all speed, President Wilson today went to the capitol to confer with Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee and other leaders. The president told Chamberlain the bill must go through at once and without change from the form suggested by the army war college and army general staff "for the welfare of the nation."

The president reached the capitol as the senate military committee was considering his measure. His conference with Chamberlain lasted only 15 minutes.

"The president merely wanted to know how our committee was progressing," said Chamberlain. "Almost at the moment the president and Chamberlain were conferring, Representative Davidson, Wisconsin, was being named a member of the house military committee to fill the only Republican vacancy on that body. Davidson's selection is of deepest interest because of the fact that before his appointment a test vote in committee recorded the sentiment as eight to nine against the conscription method and in favor of the volunteer system."

The president also saw Senator McKellar who favors a trial of the volunteer system to the draft. McKellar retained his stand for a volunteer system and announced his intention to fight to the last for an amendment providing for a call of five hundred thousand volunteers.

The bill as reported provides for filling the regular army and national guard to maximum strength—about 900,000 men—and raising an army of one million by draft.

The amendment by McKellar designed to try the volunteer system first, was defeated by a vote of ten to seven in committee. The

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 25c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, black heads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, salicylic liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes all skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

Betty, sweet little ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Mitchell of Fourth and Off-nere streets developed pneumonia in Tuesday following a five weeks illness with whooping cough and is alarming ill.

Little Anna Grace Spencer, who has been ill for many weeks with pneumonia, underwent another operation yesterday afternoon and is resting easy today, although she is not really much better.

Helen, Francis and Elizabeth, children of Mr. and Mrs. Court Henry of South Portsmouth, are ill with measles.

J. E. Pollock, cashier of the First National bank of Greenup, is ill with rheumatism.

He's telling her that nothing he received from home brought more joy, longer-lasting pleasure, greater relief from thirst and fatigue, than

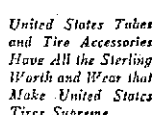

WRIGLEY'S THE FLAVOR LASTS

She slipped a stick in every letter and mailed him a box now and then.

Naturally he loves her, she loves him, and they both love WRIGLEY'S.

Chew it after every meal.

See Any Canons, Freddie?

the report:

"Coast guard stations along Cape Cod reported this morning to the district commander at Boston having heard firing of heavy guns in rapid succession at sea and to northward of the station. The reports came in quick succession and were heard at 9:41 this morning.

"Each of the three stations transmitted this report to the officers in charge of the district."

That the firing must have indicated some kind of conflict was deduced from the statement of a navy official that the gun firing could scarcely have been a salute, inasmuch as no salutes can be fired during war time.

French Forces

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, April 18—

All of Germany's hold on France was menaced today by the world's most titanic offensive. It is a struggle between von Hindenburg and the master strategists of the Franco-British staffs, on a battle scale undreamed of before.

France's part in this greatest of all war drives was preceded by the greatest bombardment in its history. The artillery roar began Friday. Millions of shells hurled over the lines daily. The French marksmanship was so deadly that the first German prisoners caught in the infantry sweep forward declared of their companies of 250 men, the average that survived was only eighty each.

The sudden Franco-British drive shatters Germany's hope to avoid a Spring offensive by their retreat. The French onslaught now gathering its greatest momentum combined with advances begun by the British, makes a continuous battle line from Dixmude to Rheims. It is the battle of a hundred mile front.

Today the French advance between Rheims and Seissons menaces the entire German line, coupled with the British attack on St. Quentin and the advance of Haig's troops toward Cambrai and Lens.

France's onslaught is on too gigantic a scale over this hundred mile front to permit any one to visualize the titanic struggle in its entirety. But from the crest of one hill one could see during one stage of the great struggle an incident that strikingly reveals the French strategy no less than the reasons for the Germans' tremendous losses. This one incident was France's feat in wresting one of the Germans' strongest defensive positions from the enemy.

The position consisted of a village surmounting a precipitous ravine. The bank of this ravine was honey-combed with caves hewn out of solid stone; in treacherously dug quarry excavations and shafts. The Germans had stationed their machine guns there—strongly fortified in the rock which French artillery could not pierce. From the impregnable quarries below the village the German infantry waited confidently the expected frontal attack from the French.

Two columns of French infantry suddenly began an encircling movement from the right and left. Every movement of these forces was visible to the naked eye. The soldiers advanced at almost a striding pace, along the summit of two converging ridges. Their bodies were clearly silhouetted against the sky.

Neither a veritable cloud of shrapnel which hung low over their heads nor high explosive barrages nor gas shells hindered the slow, measured advance of these forces for a single instant.

Not until both these columns simultaneously approached the outskirts of the village did the Germans, hidden in the quarry—still awaiting that frontal attack—realize they had been "out-Hindenbarged."

Instantly they rushed out their machine guns in a desperate attempt to cover a retreat. But they were too late. The French converging columns met behind the village. They cut off all retreat. The Germans did not relish an attempt to cut their way through. They hurriedly returned to the protection of the rock caves. And the French columns, ignoring their existence and leaving their ultimate capture to other troops, swept on, penetrating at every step deeper into the German line.

LONDON, April 18.—Field Marshal Haig's greatest thrust today was toward Cambrai. Capture of the village of Villers-Guislain, nine miles south of Cambrai, was reported by the British commander-in-chief. Improvement of the British positions around Lagnicourt about the same distance to the west of this pivotal point in the Hindenburg line was likewise achieved, he said.

By capture of Villers-Guislain northeast of Epehy, the British have pushed another wall of steel parallel to the artery of German communications between Cambrai and St. Quentin. Like Epehy, Ronssay, Villers, Leverguier and Maisemey—all of which villages lie to the south—Villers-Guislain is approximately two miles distant from the Cambrai-St. Quentin high road. The British now parallel the high road for a distance of 15 of the 22 miles between the two towns. The drive which enveloped Villers-Guislain was from the direction of Epehy, Haig reported, indicating apparently a definite plan to parallel the Cambrai-St. Quentin by British forces which may at any time strike suddenly somewhere along this 22 mile stretch and sever the artery.

In the meantime Haig's laconic report "the Lagnicourt position was improved," means a blow struck at the key city of Cambrai from the west.

"East of Epehy this morning we progressed," the British commander-in-chief reported. "We captured the village of Villers-Guislain. The Lagnicourt position was improved."

The position consisted of a village surmounting a precipitous ravine. The bank of this ravine was honey-combed with caves hewn out of solid stone; in treacherously dug quarry excavations and shafts. The Germans had stationed their machine guns there—strongly fortified in the rock which French artillery could

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Second Lieutenant Robert H. Hall, First Infantry, Indiana national guard, has been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment on charges including one that he negotiated for a commission from the Mexican government.

The charges against him included loss or disposition of confidential maps of the government in Mexico, desertion, swindling, bigamy, forgery, embezzlement, disobedience of standing orders.

He was found guilty of the charges on specification with the exception of that charging him with the loss or disposition of government maps.

The war department announced today that President Wilson had confirmed the court martial sentence and designated United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., as the place for his confinement.

Hall was a member of the New Castle, Indiana, company. He was born and reared in Madrid, Spain, as his father was an American envoy to that country. He spoke Spanish more fluently than English.

AMSTERDAM, April 18.—Germany's latest war loan totalled $3,103,110,000, according to information from Berlin today.

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—President Wilson may act on the suggestion by Governor Cox, of Ohio that a conference of governors be called at Washington, where the president and his cabinet may map out plans for uniform co-operation by the states in war.

minority will draft a report and make a fight on the floor for the volunteer system.

An important amendment providing that no liquor can be sold to soldiers or officers in uniform or taken upon military reservations was appended by the committee.

The seven senators favoring the McKellar plan against the draft bill, were: Senators New, McKellar, Reed, Kirby, Sutherland, Hitchcock and Thomas.

In the meantime opposition crystallized on the house side in an amendment to the general staff bill, "authorizing" the president to raise 500,000 volunteers but retaining authorization for resort to selective conscription.

The military committee is said to overwhelmingly favor this amendment. The committee's action followed a heated fight by the eight universal service advocates—Kahn, California; Tilson, Connecticut; Green, Vermont; Crago, Pennsylvania; Olney, Massachusetts; Harrison, Virginia; Lunn, New York; and McKenzie, Illinois.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Miss Jeannette Rankin, of Montana, was named today by the Republicans to be a member of the House public lands committee—her first and only committee assignment.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—All Scandinavia is worried over the possibility of America shutting off food supplies from neutrals and concentrating on the provisioning of its new allies in the war. The anxiety with which such a possibility is viewed was revealed today by Premier Knudsen of Norway.

"Such a move would be disastrous to us," said Premier Knudsen. "It would cut off more than half of our grain supply. All our statesmen, all our people are hoping there will be no such action. It seems incredible that such an undesired unfriendliness is seriously contemplated."

rooted in my mind. I am very much obliged to you indeed for your telegram," reads a letter from the White House to Cox, made public here today.

EL PASO, TEXAS, April 18.—Carranza's mobilization of troops along the border continued today and it was learned that General Murguia has given up the Villa chase, returning to Juarez with his column of 5,000 men, which he led to El Valle last week, ostensibly in pursuit of the bandit.

Withdrawal of virtually all Carranzistas forces from Central Mexico has been virtually completed. It is reported that the state of Guanajuato is now completely abandoned by the federal forces.

General Murguia's return to Juarez will place (approximately thirty thousand) Carranzistas troops within striking distance of El Paso, or other border points and the situation is causing uneasiness to El Paso residents.

LONDON, April 18.—A resolution formally expressing England's appreciation and gratitude and welcoming America to the ranks of the allies fighting for democracy was passed by the house of commons today. It had been framed by the ministry. The vote was unanimous. The House of Lords adopted the same resolution later in the afternoon.

It was announced today that the commissioner of works had arranged for the Stars and Stripes to fly along side the Union Jack on all public buildings Friday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Government officials here expressed the view today that Russia will stand steadfast with the Entente allies. Peace pressure, studiously manifested by Germany is merely propaganda they believe to which the new democracy will not listen. Some military men disagreed today with this view, but affairs are so shaping themselves that with America's assistance, Russia will probably forge forward to a new strong position in the war. The new regime in Russia probably will send here as its ambassador, Baron Rosen, a man of liberal views, to succeed Ambassador Rakhmetoff, resigned. Rosen has been informally communicated to the state department.

BERLIN, via London, April 18.—Resignation of the Austrian Minister of Commerce, Dr. Urban, and of Dr. von Bartheimer, minister without portfolio, was announced in Vienna dispatches received here today. Both are members of German parties.

Great significance may be attached to these resignations, since the ministers were "members of German parties."

It is possible that the German and Austrian censorship is concealing considerable anti-German feeling in Austria and that the resignation of two men belonging to German political parties is due to this cause.

Other reports from sources not affected by the Teutonic censorship, persisted in rumors that Austria is seeking a separate peace.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Miss Jeannette Rankin, of Montana, was named today by the Republicans to be a member of the House public lands committee—her first and only committee assignment.

Word received here from Sweden and Denmark indicates similar apprehension in these nations.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—It may be General Roosevelt regardless of whether the colonel's expeditionary division is approved by the federal government. Declaring T. R. would attract to the colors more men than any living American, Governor Whitman is on record today with an offer for Roosevelt of the highest guard commission in his power to confer.

Call To Hear Demonstrator Explain Tonic

Scores of Portsmouth people are now calling daily to visit the Tonic demonstrator at Fisher and Streich's Pharmacy. All indications are that the sale of Tonic during the period that the demonstrator will be in the city to explain the new tonic, and after that period, will surpass all previous records here. This is expected even though Tonic has always enjoyed a big sale in Portsmouth.

Many Indorse New Tonic
Many people who have tried Tonic and found it beneficial have given statements indorsing the new tonic. They believe that others bothered as they were should know about such a medicine.

Mrs. Phena Conner, 230 Seacoast avenue, Chillicothe, Ohio, was all run down in health following an attack of malaria fever.

"I was badly in need of something to build me up," Mrs. Conner said. "I tried Tonic and I've got back my strength through its use. Any kind of fried food, fresh bread or pork made me sick before I tried Tonic. I was nervous, too. I got so I was wide awake after going to bed at night and often didn't sleep a wink until nearly morning."

Improved Every Way
"I can eat about anything I care for since taking Tonic and without any bad after effects, either. I sleep better at night, too, and, to tell the truth, I feel a great deal better in every way."

Lerman Dvillis, 1022 Greenfield avenue, Dayton, O., says his work is easier since taking Tonic. "I used to be mighty tired when I got home after my day's work," Mr. Dvillis said. "It wasn't much use to go to bed, either. My rest was so fitful that it didn't do me a bit of good. I'd get up in mornings feeling as tired as I did the night before. Well, since taking Tonic I can do a hard day's work and not feel one-half as tired as I did before. I sleep soundly at night, too, and get up feeling fine."

Enjoys Her Meals Now
Mrs. Lucas Keller, of near Chillicothe, O., couldn't eat a thing without gas forming in her stomach afterward and causing bloating.

"But since taking Tonic," Mrs. Keller said, "I'm eating three big, hearty meals every day without a bit of discomfort afterward. I owe to the new tonic the fine appetite and the good digestion I now have."

The Tonic demonstrator will tell you about the new tonic at Fisher and Streich's Pharmacy. If you are not feeling right you should at least call and find out about the Tonic Medicine that has helped tens of thousands of weakened, run down men and women back to health and strength.

CARRANZA REFUSES TO ACCEPT RESIGNATION

"Italy" And "America" At War; Police News

More formalities, such as recalling ambassadors and exchanging diplomatic notes, were forgotten Tuesday evening, when Italy declared war on America in the North End and struck the first blow. It resulted in one of the shortest wars on record. America was linked, but America was a woman.

"Italy" married "America" along in December. Then decided to quit work, so Mrs. Paulino Paulino stated in police court Wednesday, Tuesday evening Paulino walked up and without interference of words, struck his wife. A retreat was sounded and a squad of American bluecoats were called. Italy was taken to the city jail and was fined $25 and costs.

Begging on the streets by able bodied men, who can hardly pass through the city without being offered a job, will not be countenanced by Mayor H. H. Kaps, so Charles Martin, a stranger, discovered. Martin admitted he had a "charity card" in his possession but denied begging and promised to leave the city at once. Martin was fined $25 and costs and placed on the city work gang.

Guy Lockabough pleaded guilty to furnishing Vernon McQuillan with liquor and being drunk. He was fined $10 and costs.

Ed "Deedy" Johnson, colored, and William Bishop were each fined $10 on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Charles Kirkendall started out on a drunk Monday. Wednesday at four a. m. he was arrested. Charles says he was on a drunk all right but added that he was walking in his sleep when caught. He was given a fine of $10, of which $5 was suspended.

John Doyle, John Carley, E. Carpenter, James Ringling, John Henry and Homer Myers were fined $5 on charges of being drunk.

DOCTOR SAYS NUXATED IRON WILL INCREASE STRENGTH OF DELICATE PEOPLE 100 PERCENT IN TEN DAYS

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a recent discourse, Doctor E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European medical institutes said: "If you were to make an accurate test on all people who are ill, you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multiple and dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this, the blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; we find such weakness that they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are nervous and tremble all day; some fatty and irritable; some skinny and bloodless; but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or drastic drugs on all people who are suffering vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe

NOTE:—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have authorized the use of their name by any other institution if they can't take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength. They have no selfish interest in this. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy and all other druggists.

Members of the winning class ate at a table while the losers had to eat from paper plates away from the table.

Now a Lifetime Car Built and Tested for 200,000 Miles With 100% Over-Strength

We now show Mitchells in two sizes. Both designed, in every vital part, for twice the needed strength. And both with many extras.

Three years ago, after one year in Europe, John W. Bate resolved to double Mitchell strength.

Our standard then was 50 per cent over-strength. He decided to make it 100 per cent over-strength. In this year's cars, for the first time, we announce that new attainment.

Every Part Studied

He has made a study of every part. He has worn out fifty cars in learning needed strength. He has devised radical tests to prove at least double-strength.

Over 440 parts are built of toughened steel. Safety parts are vastly oversize. All parts which get a major strain are built of Chrome-Vanadium.

Gears are tested for 50,000 pounds per tooth. He perfected his springs—Bate cantilevers—until in two years not a single one has broken.

He subjects his engine to 10,000-mile tests, then takes it apart and inspects it.

The result, we believe, is a lifetime car. Several Mitchells have survived 200,000 miles of hard driving—about 40 years of ordinary service.

No Added Cost

This over-strength has been accomplished without added factory cost.

It is one of the Mitchell extras, paid for by factory savings.

This entire plant has been built and equipped to build this one type economically. Millions have been spent, under John W. Bate, to this single end.

The result is a saving, on this year's output, of at least $4,000,000. And that whole sum is spent on Mitchell extras, including this over-strength.

Unique Attractions

This year's Mitchells have 31 features which nearly all cars omit. Things like a power tire pump, dashboard engine primer, reversible headlights, etc. All things which you will want.

And on this year's cars we add 24 per cent to the cost of finish, upholstery and trimmings. The result is marvels of beauty and luxury, with a finish that endures.

Savings made in our new body plant pay for all this added luxury.

What Would You Omit?

Come see these new cars and tell us what you would omit. Would you have a car less durable, less complete, less attractive?

If not, you must choose Mitchell. It has hundreds of extras which others do not offer. And they never can, at Mitchell prices, until they attain Mitchell factory efficiency.

One Size is Now $1150

This year the Mitchell comes in two sizes. The smaller is Mitchell Junior. It is a roomy and powerful Six—120-inch wheelbase, 40-horsepower motor. Large enough and powerful enough for a 5-passenger car.

So now you can get the size you want, and the price you want. And any style of body. And all are Mitchells, built to Mitchell standards, with the Mitchell extras and the Mitchell over-strength.

Come and see these latest models. They embody over 700 improvements which Mr. Bate has made.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, trouble, weas, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 62.

Miss Dolly Wise—I saw in your column the other night where somebody wanted to know where to find G. E. D. and wanted to know if he used tobacco. He does not use tobacco in any form, has no bad habits of any kind. An enclosing name and address, which you can give to any nice girls who would like to correspond with me. G. E. D.

Miss Dolly Wise—Please tell me when the section of the flood wall west of Chillicothe street was completed. THANKS.

In 1909.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise—You have helped so many others and would like for you to help me. If you were going with a boy and meet him on the street and he would not speak or look at you, and when you see him again he would say it is the girl's place to speak first, what would you do? BLUE EYES.

Dear Dolly—I see so much in the paper about your garden club. Now, Dolly, if I owned any ground I sure would plant a garden. Can you tell me who owns that vacant ground up on Gallia street, behind those billboards? Why don't somebody see to it and plant it in a garden. Tell me who owns it if you know, and I will see if I can plant a few potatoes in it. POOR WORKING-MAN.

The ground belongs to the Danaher heirs. Mr. F. W. Jansen, the grocer, has had it rented for some time. He is going to raise a garden in it this year.

Dear Miss Wise—If anyone's house is facing the east, on what side would be the south side, and what side would be the north side? As I do not know, would like for you to tell me. A PUZZLED WOMAN.

If it were facing the east, it would be on the west side of the street.

Miss Dolly Wise—I see in The Times where the mother is speaking of the Chicago Woman's Reserve Corps asking for munitions in the shape of playing-cards. I, for one, think our boys going to war should be taught to read the Bible and to pray to their God Who made them, that He might see them safely through when they are facing death.

"In a Few Minutes, Away Go Blackheads"

"You Never Saw Anything Like It, Girls, and Here Are Some Other Beauty Secrets—Wonderful," Says Valaska Suratt.

By Valaska Suratt.

HONESTLY, it gives me the "flashes" every time I hear of, or see, anyone trying to pick out blackheads. You can squeeze out a large one in a while and there's no damage to the skin, but when you try to squeeze out the thousands of little ones that are so firmly imbedded in the skin that you have to figure your face to get them out, it is time to "call a taxi." Anyway, you'll never get them all out by pinching the face—it's impossible. And it is unnecessary. I have proven it to be unnecessary. You can prove it to yourself in three minutes. If you will take the little trouble to use my formula, you will be able to get blackheads when the three minutes are up. It's wonderful what you can do by sprinkling this powder on a wet sponge and rubbing the blackheads with it for a few minutes. It does what nothing else in the whole world can do—get rid of them all, big and little ones. Just try this right away, get the powder at the drug store. Don't steam the face because that makes the pores large and it does not do a particle of good for removing blackheads.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

MISS DOUBLEDAY—Your hair ought to be growing from the scalp. If you will use my hair formula, "this has certainly stirred up things among your hair," and you will see the results in a few days. It is perfectly astounding how it makes hair grow and stops hair falling out. Get one ounce of hair-oil from your drug store and mix it with half a pint of water and half a pint of alcohol. If you prefer, use a pint of bay rum instead of water and alcohol. Use this every day, and your hair will grow long, silky, beautiful hair will come true.

MISS HAPPY—I knew that hair formula would make your hair grow fast. Now about the dandruff. You know soap and the common shampooes burn hair and never stops dandruff. Try a teaspoonful of egg in half a cup of water and wash your hair with it. If you prefer, use a few drops of lemon juice in the water. This is wonderful for that. Eggs will eat twenty-cent dandruff enough to make about twelve shampoos. There's nothing as good.

MISS M. G. H.—One, two, three, that's all. Use the hair formula as my superlative hair formula gets rid of dandruff. If you prefer, use a few drops of lemon juice in the water. Just moisten the hair with water and use the hair formula. It is a wonderful solution and will stop dandruff and burners and all scalp troubles. Hair removers sold for anything. They are bad. Use my hair formula. It is safe on any part of feet range of more than 10,000 yards. They can be sunk by a gunshot. The force with which it strikes any object within its range explodes.

Sunday the McClintic Marshall company baseball team will cross bats with the Shamrock club of Portsmouth. The bridge boys have never been able to register a victory against Masons bunch but hope to turn the trick Sunday. Lucas and Goodman will be the battery for the bridge men. Great interest is centered in this game and a good sized crowd is sure to be on hand to lend excitement to the affair.

Five Get Sweaters

Five players of the P. H. S. basketball team received sweaters and six get their letters this year. Captain Hanson, Forwards Wilson and Edwards and Guards Shamway and Wells receive sweaters and these five with Oursd Shoemaker receive letters.

Manager Mathewson of the Cincinnati Reds yesterday claimed Gus Getz, the Brooklyn infielder, by the waiver route. Getz has been in the league for several seasons, first with Boston and later with Brooklyn. He has played all the infield positions, including first base, and so thirty grabbed him for utility duty as the team is short of infielders, now that Ed McKelvie is laid up for several weeks.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Roddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and blood troubles. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a little nervous feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the safe, reliable, and pleasant—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. One and two per box. All druggists.

"CASCARETS" FOR YOUR BOWELS IF HEADACHY, SICK
For biliousness, bad breath, colds, indigestion and constipation
Enjoy life! Live your liver and bowels tonight and feel fine
Your tongue is coated! Look inside your watch cover and see! That's bad business. What have you been eating? What were you drinking? What kind of a lazy chair did you take exercise in? Now don't think it doesn't matter, because, it's your bowels that talk now every time you open your mouth. That doesn't help your popularity, nor your earning capacity. Besides, a person with bad bowels is in a bad way and a coated tongue or a bad breath are sure signs of bad bowels and poor digestion.

Why don't you get a 10-cent box of Cascarets at any drug store and give your liver and thirty feet of bowels the nicest, gentlest cleansing they ever experienced. Take one or two Cascarets tonight and wake up feeling fine and fit. All Headache, Dizziness, Biliousness, Bad Breath, Stomach Sourness, Cold and Constipation gone—wake up with your head clear, tongue clean, stomach sweet, liver and bowels active, step elastic and complexion rosy.
Cascarets work while you sleep—never gripe or sicken. Cascarets act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a thorough cathartic. They don't bother you all next day like salts, pills, oil or calomel—Cascarets being perfectly harmless is best children's laxative.

Can Walk 3 Miles
Troubles of Heart, Stomach, Digestion All Removed.
To look at Mr. David T. Remington, of Springfield, Mass., one would say, "he is as sound as a nut."

And so he is, thanks to the new combination of purifying and building-up treatment embodied in Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepton Pills.
Mr. Remington is one of the best known men in the State, having been for 21 years in the State House in Boston as Senate Doorkeeper and Sergeant-at-Arms.

He says he had annoying symptoms about his heart, stomach and digestive organs. His old friend, Senator George E. Putnam, of Lowell, urged him to take a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepton Pills, which he did, and now, "I never felt better in all my life. I can walk from my home down town and back 1 1/2 miles each way."

These medicines are obtainable from the druggist. Why not begin this sensible treatment today?

Throw Away The Atomizer

Would it not be fine to get rid of all the troublesome articles used when you have CATARRH? Wouldn't it be better still to get rid of the CATARRH? Catarrh is most often deep-seated, and local applications will not help it very much in that case. You must have something that will reach the blood and get at the first cause. This is what S. S. S. will do.

S.S.S. For Catarrh

Like many other diseases, Catarrh is often more deep-seated than people imagine. Using S. S. S. will relieve the congestion because it purifies the blood. After taking it a while you can dispense with gargles and atomizers. These local treatments are helpful for a time, but they will not cure. You must get at the blood.

GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is made of Nature's own herbs, barks and roots. It is made of live matter and not of dead matter such as metals and minerals. It has been the standard blood purifier for 50 years. Likewise a splendid tonic. Ask your druggist. Insist on getting S. S. S. and take no substitute.

LET US WALK TOGETHER

Every citizen of whatever age or sex, is asked to soberly realize that our march Thursday evening is their affair—his and her's.

That it is the tribute of our people to the liberty we enjoy. It is our way of expressing the fact that we believe that all men are born free and with equal rights. That government only by the consent of the governed shall not perish. Many are offering their lives, multitudes have died that these things might live.

It has been arranged that for one hour we shall forego our ease or usual pleasures and walk together—that each may see and feel how deeply the love of liberty, the knowledge of its priceless value is within us all.

The great minds of the world agree that these things are now at stake—that the crisis of democracy is at hand. With malice towards none other of the peoples of the earth, this is our evidence that we understand.

FIRST, DUTY OR PARTISANSHIP

A citizen, who must feel the prick of a quickened conscience, writes to his party organ asking if, having voted in the primaries, it is his duty to support those candidates that he cast his ballots against.

The answer vouchsafed him by the organ, which belongs to the majority is amusing and wrong, wickedly wrong. Quoting an array of statutes, which provide for the settling of party rivalries by the making of single nominations to go on the ballot, laying profound stress upon the fact that the law prohibits any but those who have prior to the primary, voted the party ticket, from voting for any other than on its side of the primary, it concludes that it is the duty of the citizen to sustain with his ballot those nominees against whom he protested.

A newspaper that gives that sort of advice is unworthy of the name and it deserves to be considered the reprobated thing it is, a merely party organ. It should have told the inquirer that it was his solemn duty as a citizen to go to his party primary and vote for the nomination of good and fit candidates, but it is never his duty to vote for bad and unfit candidates, no matter what ticket they may be on, even if he has unsuccessfully opposed their nomination by his party. Party loyalty is all well enough, it is even quite a desirable quality, under proper conditions, but each voter's prime obligation is to his country and his fellowmen. Whenever party fealty would seemingly conflict with the latter, then it should be cast to the winds as a thing altogether unworthy.

That torpedo which shot across the bows of an American warship Tuesday, missing the ship by only a few feet, brought home to America that war is not a pink tea affair. Maybe we need something sharp and stern to make us all realize that while we may have altruistic notions the redoubtable kaiser is not affected by any such feelings. He will undoubtedly try to give America a spectacular scare; thinking we will all sit down and cry over spilled milk. He will find, however, that it will only make the country mad and determined to see the thing through to a finish.

When Billy Sunday was in Portsmouth some readers criticised him for devoting so many columns to his meetings, not realizing the tremendous interest in the event as a news item. Today Sunday is in New York City and the metropolitan papers are devoting almost as much space to him as did The Times. He gets columns in every paper and scores of trained writers are detailed to cover the meetings.

"Hundreds Pledge To Quit Cards and Dance" says a headline in the Irononian. So? 'Tis often the case after great shocks that thoughts turn sadly towards the Heavenly home.

And again remember that Thursday night is the night of the big parade and demonstration that is to show Portsmouth stands out prominently on the patriotic map. This means you and you, everybody.

Piketon rejoices. She has been given a water shed to accommodate passengers who board trains on the off side of the depot which the voracious Republican says "is a thing of joy forever."

Everyone will have his sacrifices to make and everyone can help if the war be at all protracted. Lose no time then in beginning to help right now. The women and girls can form societies and learn where they can be of most service, so as to be ready when the call comes to them.

Wheat took a big tumble, Tuesday, but flour is dreadfully slow about getting the news.

To be altogether frank, it will have to be admitted the British are a muddlin' things considerably around St. Quentin.

Washington suffragists say they will stand by the president. Well, isn't that just what they have been doing to his annoyance?

Brazil, Panama and others of the Central and South American republics are following in the wake of the Big Brother of the North, making it pretty much of a family affair.

If it isn't one thing, it is another. High prices present no terror to the ex-Czarina of Russia, whose husband has a private fortune of two billion dollars, but she can't go out to shop.

"THERE'S A PLACE IN THE RANKS FOR YOU"

ALL FALL IN LINE

Portsmouth isn't taking any more than her time in preparing for the patriotic demonstration, but that is ample and sufficient for with enthusiasm and loyalty she is concentrating her energies for culmination on tomorrow evening.

It is actually inspiring the zest with which individuals and organizations are entering upon the work of making the demonstration a success. A splendid rivalry has been developed and many a man finds himself between a divided fealty, every lodge, or society or craft to which he belongs, claiming first right to have him in its ranks. But it doesn't make any material difference where he marches. The great thing is to fall into line and march. Other towns have had like affairs that they were proud of. The Peerless wants to and must make her's worthy of herself.

She will. Fall in line. March!

And it isn't far from being a fact that a man, woman, or child who grows a potato is a patriot.

Certainly, nobody wanted war, but people have a good many things forced upon them that they wouldn't have if they could help.

Passes are now required for admission to government buildings and we should think the same idea might be applied to war enlistments. Everybody in America is always crazy to get in on a pass.

We have reserved a suite of rooms in Hotel Hale in the Ground, Ironton, for the week of festivities incident to the reception and dedication of the new armor plate—no, no, we mean the three splendid rusty, obsolete iron cannon, now enroute from Washington.

What mockeries there are in the world. Employees of the government, who make its money, can not be paid, because there is no appropriation for their services.

For the life of us we can't understand why April doesn't understand we have had more than a sufficiency of winter.

We are pleased to make the announcement that that three miles of paving on Gallia pike is completed, and will not even say, at last.

Anyway you can help to raise the garden club membership to twelve hundred.

GUEST TOWELS

(By George Martin)

There is only one thing in the world more useless than an extra inch on a shoestring. That's a guest towel.

Every time you try to use a guest towel your face hits a chunk of embroidery and the towel itself refuses to take effect.

Now you take a turkish towel and you know you've got something. It is rough, and uncouth and not very careful about its personal appearance, but it gets results. It has a corrugated face and few, if any, foldovers, but gosh how it can scrape.

And there are a few other towels that are not so bad. But for the guests' sake, if for no other reason, let us abolish guest towels.

Fooling The Neighbors

Casey had been married only a week when he discovered that his wife, who had assumed control of household and larder, was inclined to be stingy.

He had been working in his small garden one afternoon when wife came to the back door and called out in strident tones: "Terrence, come in to try, toast and fove eggs!" "No, Terrence," said the wife, "it's not you; it's the neighbors I'm kiddin'."—Everybody's.

"Never kept very close track."

"But you must have a rough notion about it. Does she give as much as half a gallon a day?"

"Confound it, say definitely. She's an awfully good, kind, old cow, tho. If she's got any milk she'll give it to you!"—De Laval Monthly.

Washington and the Corporal

Many a reader has asked the class to rewrite in their own words a story she had told them the day before about Washington and one of his corporals. Many had been absent and had not heard the story, but it did not occur to her to tell her teacher and ask to be excused. "What?" was not in her vocabulary. Her ideas of corporals were somewhat hazy, but she made up in originality what she lacked in accuracy. She wrote industriously, and soon produced the following masterpiece: "George Washington was riding thru the woods one day with some of his men. As they were riding along he saw, way up in the top of an old tree, a big corporal sitting on a nest of blue corporals. One of the men shot at the big corporal but missed him and he flew down and pecked George Washington on the nose."—Youth's Companion.

SENATE UNANIMOUSLY PASSES 7 BILLION WAR BILL

Germany's Hold On France Is Menaced By Titanic Offensive

PRESIDENT FIRM ON DRAFT BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Raising an army of two million men in two years is the next step confronting the nation.

The great seven billion dollar bond issue bill is now virtually a law. The senate having unanimously passed it with minor amendments last night, an agreement by conferees of house and senate was expected by the time both houses convene today at noon. The president was expected to sign the measure by this afternoon.

The senate military committee will report today the administration bill for volunteers to fill present open gaps in the regular army and national guard, this to be followed by selective draft.

House opposition to selective draft is believed to have been considerably chilled by word from President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker that the administration will not harken to any general volunteer plan.

As in times past, pressure now promises to crumple congress on position. Members who have hankly declared they feared to go "back for votes" if they favored the conscription plan, have changed over night. Many of these said they would support the president regardless of political fortunes.

If such opposition still menaces the bill, the administration will not hesitate to take the names and cases of the revolting straight to the people.

That the administration is tired, is putting it mildly. Military men say that the success of America in the war is daily jeopardized by such procrastination.

In answer to those favoring volunteering, the administration has pointed out that the present bill provides for upwards of 500,000 volunteers to bring the regular army and national guard to complete strength.

Once the army measure is disposed of government espionage and other similar war measures will be taken up.

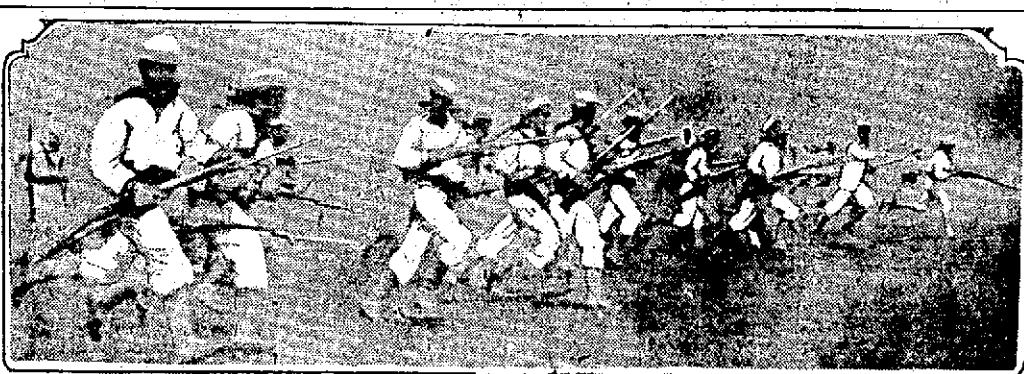

While congress proceeds with war legislation, diplomatic problems, particularly the Russian situation, are receiving serious thought. Means of solidifying Russian sentiment and action against German intrigue and peace overtures will doubtless be one of the chief topics of the American-Allied commissioners.

Subway And Charter Issues Pass In Cin'ti

CINCINNATI, April 18.—Cincinnati began today the preparatory work of building a $6,000,000 subway system following a special election yesterday when the voters by a majority of 2 to 1 authorized the construction of the system which will be leased to the Cincinnati Traction company which operates the present surface lines. Cincinnati also elected fifteen charter commissioners to frame a charter. The ticket endorsed by the Republican organization won.

Navy Searching For Lurking Sub

WASHINGTON, April 18.—"Somewhere" in the Atlantic today the navy is trying to round up the lurking German submarine which yesterday fired the first shot of the war at the United States destroyer Smith.

What craft was engaged in the hunt or just "where" and how it proceeds must be withheld for military reasons. One thing, however, is certain, the hunt is on with all the enthusiasm of men who have been "spoiling for a fight."

The warning to shipping to beware of this new lurking peril still stands and will be lifted only when the submarine has been destroyed or captured, or when it is reasonably sure that she is streaking homeward. Since the story reached the navy department wild rumors of the capture or destruction of the submarine have been widely circulated. The censor promises that any such news will be made public as soon as it reaches his ears officially.

MAY HAVE BEEN FISH

BOSTON, April 18.—A suggestion in shipping circles that the lookout on the U. S. destroyer Smith had perhaps mistaken a large fish for a torpedo in the uncertain light of the early morning, met with the reply that the Smith's officers "stood by their original statement."

First Call For "Trail Hitters" Is Near In New York

New York, April 18.—Billy Sunday was drawing nearer the point of calling upon New York for a great patriotic and religious revival today. The first call for "trail hitters" was believed to be approaching. He prayed for all New York last night. He asked God to bless "my friend John, who's a good scout," when he included Mayor Mitchell, and prayed for everybody, from the water front to the cabaret district.

"Lord go down Broadway and Fifth and Sixth avenues, through the theatre districts and big hotels, the saloons and cabarets. Don't you miss anybody," said Sunday.

All Knights of Pythias of the city and county are urged to meet promptly at 7 p. m. Thursday at Third and Chillicothe to take part in Loyalty Parade. Bring flags. Signed. RALPH G. JOHNSON, 18-n23; Special Deputy.

ARGENTINE SEIZES GERMAN SHIPS

ALL ANGLING FOR PEACE

LONDON, April 18.—Reports persisted here today that Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey were all angling for separate peace agreements with the Entente through secret emissaries. The move was said to center in Switzerland. No confirmation was obtainable here.

Noted Singer Is "Resting Comfortably"

NEW YORK, April 18.—Mme. Bernhardt was said to be "resting comfortably" today following an operation performed at Mount Sinai hospital last night. Only a few hours before the noted French actress was carried to the operating room where she was under the knife for a half hour, she sent a kiss to a vast crowd which gathered at the Metropolitan Opera House for a benefit performance for mutilated allied soldiers. Sir Herbert Tree brought the kiss from Mme. Bernhardt. After Caruso, Mme. Alda and other noted singers had rendered the national anthems of the allied powers Tree appeared. He told of visiting Mme. Bernhardt at the hospital, of asking for some message.

"With a fine gesture," Tree continued, "she said 'tell them—' more daylight." "I now deliver the kiss." And Tree threw a kiss to the audience. It was received with mingled applause and tears.

Buys Restaurant

S. T. Reeder, grocer of South Portsmouth, has bought the restaurant of H. P. Wingo. He will use the restaurant room for his continued, "she said 'tell them—' grocery and his present store and room across the street from the new one, for a ware room. Mr. Wingo will farm on the land belonging to Captain A. W. Brewer.

Ohio Clocks May Be Moved Forward An Hour

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—Clocks throughout Ohio may be moved forward an hour to give "more daylight" for raising "war" crops.

Governor Cox today said he likely will issue a proclamation calling for this step in communities throughout the state, except where eastern time already has been adopted.

At the same time a proclamation may go out to mayors of all Ohio cities urging strict enforcement of vagrancy laws.

"There is no place in Ohio today for the laggard," Cox declared today. "What fond we shall produce will be needed for the men called to the colors and for those who serve in the productive pursuits at home. The man who will not work shall go to jail or be forced to work. Let the loafers be branded as vagrants and treated as such."

Pred C. Croxton, Columbus, has been appointed labor member of the newly organized state council for defense. Croxton will supervise the 21 employment bureaus in various sections of the state.

Mayors of the cities in which there will be job bureaus have been summoned for a conference with Croxton and the governor Thursday afternoon.

FIRING HEARD OFF EAST COAST

have come into conflict with a German submarine or rider but this was purely conjecture.

A wireless message with details of the firing is expected shortly at the navy yard.

[BULLETIN]
BOSTON, Mass., April 18.—Lieutenant Edward G. Blakeale, U. S. N., communication officer of the first district at Charleston navy yard, announced today that heavy firing was reported off Provincetown, Mass., by three different coast guard stations at 9:41 this morning.

The reports were received by telephone from stations 33 at Race Point, station 34 at Peaked Bars Hills, and station 32 at Provincetown. Three stations are located about Provincetown bay and the firing was reported as having occurred due north, which would locate it approximately in the middle of the entrance to the bay.

The firing was said to appear to be from heavy guns. It was thought that a patrol boat might

STRUGGLE BETWEEN HINDENBURG AND ALLIES STRATEGISTS CONTINUES UNABATED

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, April 18.—All of Germany's hold on France was menaced today by the world's most titanic offensive. It is a struggle between von Hindenburg and the master strategists of the Franco-British staffs, on a battle scale undreamed of before.

France's part in this greatest of all war drives was preceded by the greatest bombardment in its history. The artillery roar began Friday. Millions of shells hurled over the lines daily. The French marksmanship was so deadly that the first German prisoners caught in the infantry sweep forward declared of their companies of 250 men, the average that survived was only eighty each.

The sudden Franco-British drive shatters Germany's hope to avoid a Spring offensive by their retreat. The French onslaught now gathering its greatest momentum combined with advances begun by the British, makes a continuous lightning from Dixmude to Rheims. It is the battle of a hundred mile front.

Today the French advance between Rheims and Seissons menaces the entire German line, coupled with the British attack on St. Quentin and the advance of Haig's troops toward Cambrai and Lens.

France's onslaught is on too gigantic a scale over this hundred mile front to permit any one to visualize the titanic struggle in its entirety. But from the crest of one hill one could see during one stage of the great struggle an incident that strikingly reveals the French strategy no less than the reasons for the Germans' tremendous losses. This one incident was France's feat in wresting one of the Germans' strongest defensive positions from the enemy.

The position consisted of a village surmounting a precipitous ravine. The bank of this ravine was honey-combed with caves hewn out of solid stone; in treacherously dug quarry excavations and shafts. The Germans had stationed their machine guns there—strongly fortified in the rock which French artillery could not pierce. From the impregnable quarries below the village the German infantry waited confidently the expected frontal attack from the French.

Two columns of French infantry suddenly began an encircling movement from the right and left. Every movement of these forces was visible to the naked eye. The soldiers advanced at almost a strolling pace, along the summit of two converging ridges. Their bodies were clearly silhouetted against the sky.

Neither a veritable cloud of shrapnel which hung low over their heads nor high explosive barrages nor gas shells hindered the slow, measured advance of these forces for a single instant.

Not until both these columns simultaneously approached the outskirts of the village did the Germans, hidden in the quarry—still awaiting that frontal attack—realize they had been "out-Hindenbarged."

Instantly they rushed out their machine guns in a desperate attempt to cover a retreat. But they were too late. The French converging columns met behind the village. They cut off all retreat. The Germans did not relish an attempt to cut their way through. They hurriedly returned to the protection of the rock caves. And the French columns, ignoring their existence and leaving their ultimate capture to other troops, swept on, penetrating at every step deeper into the German line.

LONDON, April 18.—Field Marshal Haig's greatest thrust today was toward Cambrai. Capture of the village of Villers-Guislain, nine miles south of Cambrai, was reported by the British commander-in-chief. Improvement of the British positions around Lagnicourt about the same distance to the west of this pivotal point in the Hindenburg line was likewise achieved, he said.

By capture of Villers-Guislain northeast of Epehy, the British have pushed another wall of steel parallel to the artery of German communications between Cambrai and St. Quentin. Like Epehy, Ronssoy, Villers, Leverguier and Maissemy—all of which villages lie to the south—Villers-Guislain is approximately two miles distant from the Cambrai-St. Quentin high road. The British now parallel the high road for a distance of 15 of the 22 miles between the two towns. The drive which enveloped Villers-Guislain was from the direction of Epehy, Haig reported, indicating apparently a definite plan to parallel the Cambrai-St. Quentin by British forces which may at any time strike suddenly somewhere along this 22 mile stretch and sever the artery.

In the meantime Haig's laconic report "the Lagnicourt position was improved," means a blow struck at the key city of Cambrai from the west.

"East of Epehy this morning we progressed," the British commander-in-chief reported. "We captured the village of Villers-Guislain. The Lagnicourt position was improved."

Kauff Is Looking For Fine Year

New York, April 18.—It reports from pre-season contests in which the Giants participated are worth anything Benny Kauff, the blushing violet of the Federal league, says, a fine chance of enjoying the best season of his career this summer.

Kauff, the box scores show, hit the ball at the nose with startling regularity and firmness and the box scores also showed that he occasionally drew a base on balls instead of swinging wildly at the had ones.

When the season ended last fall Kauff was showing some of the stuff that made him a king of hitters in the old Gilmore circuit. He was whaling away at the horsehide in a manner that would have soon landed his batting average to very near the 300 class. It was the result of close study by Benny and some close tutoring by John McGraw. Kauff had been told he couldn't swing in the general direction of a National league baseball and slam it out of the lot.

When Benny entered the circuit presided over by John K. Tener it became a standing joke that he would take a smash at anything, sincere and certain in the belief that a baseball couldn't be thrown past him very often. It was a fact. He was so eager to hit that he would swing at anything.

That's all changed now. Benny has learned to wait and get the good ones. And when he conceals it means something, for there are few batters in either big league with the driving power that is contained in his stock frame. It's partly Ty Cobb's fault that Benny is making such marks for himself, the reports say. Benny grew almost green with jealousy when he was thrown into a series against the Georgian, and when Ty attacked Buck Herzog, with whom Benny rooms, his desire to eclipse the famous Tiger knew no bounds. He out-Cobbed Cobb in some of those games, punching the ball around for base hits and turning in floundering plays that were sensational.

Joe Rivers Is Slipping

New York, April 18.—Once again it has been demonstrated to the fight public that once a fighter is down he never starts up again. It is a truth that has stood in spite of everything. In the long list of scrappers who have bruised themselves for the amusement of the public there is just one whose record stands to belie the statement.

Joe Rivers came to New York a short time ago and announced that a new Joe was going to show that he could come back and fight at 46. He was going to emulate Stanley Ketchel, who was dropped once and lived to see the day when he recovered his lost laurels the same way.

Time was when Joe Rivers was a paragon of boxing. He was a mar-vel at placing his hands. And he could hit. His brown fists carried more weight, perhaps, than any lightweight ever possessed. One blow from his right hand was sufficient to fell the mightiest of scrappers. Ad Wolgast can tell you. It will be a long time before Ad forgets the battle in which he, as well as Rivers, fell to the floor unconscious.

Kid Gleason In New Role

New York, April 18.—Kid Gleason, the veteran strategist and trainer of the White Sox can be blamed for the whole thing today.

Gleason is with the White Sox again. He is a specialist who develops pitchers and things into real fine ball players. Reference to the first week's crop of White Sox box scores tell the rest of the story.

Clarence Rowland has never been able to make more than ordinary efforts out of a starting pitching crop. Since the season opened this year, Gleason has turned in a no-hit, no-run game and Urban Faber just marked up a two hit pasting.

Throw Away The Atomizer

Would it not be fine to get rid of all the troublesome articles used when you have CATARRH? Wouldn't it be better still to get rid of the CATARRH? Catarrh is most often deep-seated, and local applications will not help it very much in that case. You must have something that will reach the blood and get at the first cause. This is what S. S. S. will do.

S.S.S. For Catarrh

Like many other diseases, Catarrh is often more deep-seated than people imagine. Using S. S. S. will relieve the congestion because it purifies the blood. After taking it a while you can dispense with a wash and atomizer. These local treatments are helpful for a time, but they will not cure. You must get at the blood. GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE
S. S. S. is made of Nature's own herbs, barks and roots. It is made of live matter and not of dead matter such as metals and minerals. It has been the standard blood purifier for 50 years. Likewise a splendid tonic. Ask your druggist. Insist on getting S. S. S. and take no substitute.

SWIFT SPECIFIC CO.
Department 1, Atlanta, Ga.

Our medical department will gladly send you booklets on blood troubles and with particular reference to Catarrh. Write them about your troubles and they will be only too glad to advise you. Send in the coupon.

Ad Wolgast Is Through

New York, April 18.—Ad Wolgast, once king of the type of fighters who throw caution to the winds and dashed in to win, is positively through as an athlete. He has even been adjudged incompetent to look after his own affairs and his wife has been given charge of his property.

Underlying this statement from a Wisconsin there is a lesson for any budding fighter, and one which many now appearing in rings would be well to take to heart.
It is impossible for a man to take the terrible beatings around his head and continue just the same as he always did. He can't stand the terrific body lacerations that are heaped out to the man who dares to protect himself in the hope of finding while the other man is doing the same.

There have been many fighters who were willing to stand toe to toe with the best of them and sing until somebody dropped.

The beatings their heads and bodies receive is something to marvel at. Cuts, flower cuts, broken noses, broken cheeks, and many other marks are carried by these men to their graves. A glance at Wolgast's head is enough to show what he has gone through.

LET US WALK TOGETHER

Every citizen of whatever age or sex, is asked to soberly realize that our march Thursday evening is their affair—his and her's.

That it is the tribute of our people to the liberty we enjoy. It is our way of expressing the fact that we believe that all men are born free and with equal rights. That government only by the consent of the governed shall not perish. Many are offering their lives, multitudes have died that these things might live.

It has been arranged that for one hour we shall forego our ease or usual pleasures and walk together—that each may see and feel how deeply the love of liberty, the knowledge of its priceless value is within us all.

The great minds of the world agree that these things are now at stake—that the crisis of democracy is at hand. With malice towards none other of the peoples of the earth, this is our evidence that we understand.

FIRST, DUTY OR PARTISANSHIP

A citizen, who must feel the prick of a quickened conscience, writes to his party organ asking if, having voted in the primaries, it is his duty to support those candidates that he cast his ballots against.

The answer vouchsafed him by the organ, which belongs to the majority is amusing and wrong, wickedly wrong. Quoting an array of statutes, which provide for the settling of party rivalries by the making of single nominations to go on the ballot, laying profound stress upon the fact that the law prohibits any but those who have prior to the primary, voted the party ticket, from voting for any other than on its side of the primary, it concludes that it is the duty of the citizen to sustain with his ballot those nominees against whom he protested.

A newspaper that gives that sort of advice is unworthy of the name and it deserves to be considered the reprobated thing it is, a merely party organ. It should have told the inquirer that it was his solemn duty as a citizen to go to his party primary and vote for the nomination of good and fit candidates, but it is never his duty to vote for bad and unfit candidates, no matter what ticket they may be on, even if he has unsuccessfully opposed their nomination by his party. Party loyalty is all well enough, it is even quite a desirable quality, under proper conditions, but each voter's prime obligation is to his country and his fellowmen. Whenever party fealty would seemingly conflict with the latter, then it should be cast to the winds as a thing altogether unworthy.

That torpedo which shot across the bows of an American warship Tuesday, missing the ship by only a few feet, brought home to America that war is not a pink tea affair. Maybe we need something sharp and stern to make us all realize that while we may have altruistic notions the redoubtable kaiser is not affected by any such feelings. He will undoubtedly try to give America a spectacular scare, thinking we will all sit down and cry over spilled milk. He will find, however, that it will only make the country mad and determined to see the thing through to a finish.

When Billy Sunday was in Portsmouth some readers criticised us for devoting so many columns to his meetings, not realizing the tremendous interest in the event as a news item. Today Sunday is in New York City and the metropolitan papers are devoting almost as much space to him as did The Times. He gets columns in every paper and scores of trained writers are detailed to cover the meetings.

"Hundreds Pledge To Quit Cards and Dance" says a headline in the Frontonian. So? 'Tis often the case after great shocks that thoughts turn sadly towards the heavenly home.

And again remember that Thursday night is the night of the big parade and demonstration that is to show Portsmouth stands out prominently on the patriotic map. This means you and you, everybody.

Piketon rejoices. She has been given a water shed to accommodate passengers who board trains on the off side of the depot which the voracious Republican says "is a thing of joy forever."

Everyone will have his sacrifices to make and everyone can help if the war be at all protracted. Lose no time then in beginning to help right now. The women and girls can form societies and learn where they can be of most service, so as to be ready when the call comes to them.

Wheat took a big tumble, Tuesday, but flour is dreadfully slow about getting the news.

To be altogether frank, it will have to be admitted the British are muddlin' things considerably around St. Quentin.

Washington suffragists say they will stand by the president. Well, isn't that just what they have been doing to his annoyance?

Brazil, Panama and others of the Central and South American republics are following in the wake of the Big Brother of the North, making it pretty much of a family affair.

If it isn't one thing, it is another. High prices present no terror to the ex-Czarina of Russia, whose husband has a private fortune of two billion dollars, but she can't go out to shop.

"THERE'S A PLACE IN THE RANKS FOR YOU"

ALL FALL IN LINE

Portsmouth isn't taking any more than her time in preparing for the patriotic demonstration, but that is ample and sufficient for with enthusiasm and loyalty she is concentrating her energies for culmination on tomorrow evening.

It is actually inspiring the zest with which individuals and organizations are entering upon the work of making the demonstration a success. A splendid rivalry has been developed and many a man finds himself between a divided fealty, every lodge, or society or craft to which he belongs, claiming first right to have him in its ranks. But it doesn't make any material difference where he marches. The great thing is to fall into line and march. Other towns have had like affairs that they were proud of. The Peerless wants to and must make her's worthy of herself.

She will. Fall in line. March!

And it isn't far from being a fact that a man, woman, or child who grows a potato is a patriot.

Certainly, nobody wanted war, but people have a good many things forced upon them that they wouldn't have if they could help.

Passes are now required for admission to government buildings and we should think the same idea might be applied to war enlistments. Everybody in America is always crazy to get in on a pass.

We have reserved a suite of rooms in Hotel Hale in the Ground, Ironton, for the week of festivities incident to the reception and dedication of the new armor plate—no, no, we mean the three splendid fast, obsolete iron cannon, now enroute from Washington.

What mockeries there are in the world. Employees of the government, who make its money, can not be paid, because there is no appropriation for their services.

For the life of us we can't understand why April doesn't understand we have had more than a sufficiency of winter.

We are pleased to make the announcement that that three miles of paving on Gallia pike is completed, and will not even say, at last.

Anyway you can help to raise the garden club membership to twelve hundred.

GUEST TOWELS

(By George Martin)

There is only one thing in the world more useless than an extra inch on a shoestring. That's a guest towel.

Every time you try to use a guest towel your face hits a chunk of embroidery and the towel itself refuses to take effect.

Now you take a Turkish towel and you know you've got something. It is rough, and unrough, and not very careful about its personal appearance, but it gets results. It has a corrugated face and few, if any, foldovers, but gosh how it can scrape.

And there are a few other towels that are not so bad. But for the guests' sake, if for no other reason, let us abolish guest towels.

fooling The Neighbors

Casey had been married only a week when he discovered that his wife, who had assumed control of household and larder, was inclined to be stingy.

He had been working in his small garden one afternoon when wife came to the back door and called out in strident tones: "Terrence, come in to say, toast and fove eggs!" Terrence dropped his spade in astonishment and ran into the kitchen. "Sure, ye're only kiddin' me," he said.

"No, Terrence," said the wife; "it's not ye; it's the neighbors I'm 'kiddin'!"—Everybody's.

Selling The Cow

"She's an awfully good old cow. Our children think the world of her. You'll like her immensely."

"And how much milk does she give?"

"Don't know exactly, but she's a nice cow—first class."

"Well, you must have some idea—does she give a gallon at a milking?"

"Never kept very close track."

"But you must have a rough notion about it. Does she give us much as half a gallon a day?"

"Couldn't say definitely. She's an awfully good, kind old cow, tho. If she's got any milk she'll give it to you."—De Laval Monthly.

Washington and the Corporal

Mary's mother had asked the class to re-write in their own words a story she had told them the day before about Washington and one of his corporals. Mary had been absent and had not heard the story, but it did not occur to her to tell her teacher and ask to be excused. "Can't" was not in her vocabulary. Her ideas of corporals were somewhat hazy, but she made up in originality what she lacked in accuracy. She wrote industriously, and soon produced the following masterpiece:

"George Washington was riding thru the woods one day with some of his men. As they were riding along he saw, way up in the top of an old tree, a big corporal sitting on a nest of little corporals. One of the men shot at the big corporal but missed him and he flew down and pecked George Washington on the nose."—Yonh's Companion.

An Animated Hat

The Tattler has the following account of a near-sighted old gentleman who lost his hat in a sudden gale. The old gentleman started in pursuit of his fast-disappearing headpiece, and finally that that he saw it in a yard behind a high fence. Scrambling over it with great difficulty, he started to chase it, but each time he thought that he had caught it it seemed to move away. Then a woman's angry voice broke on his ears.

"What are you doing there?" she demanded shrilly.

He explained mildly that he was only trying to retrieve his hat. "Your hat?" she said. "Well, I don't know where your hat is; but that's not a hat you're chasing; it's our little black hen!"

Local Man Has Article Accepted By Prominent Journal

Joseph W. Mitchell, local abstractor, has during the past week had an historical and exhaustive article on "The Torrens Law in Ohio," accepted by The Lawyer and Banker Magazine of New Orleans, which is the leading real estate law and abstractor's journal of the United States.

He was also called upon by the Registrar of the Federal Land Bank of this district, at Louisville, Ky., (this is District No. 4, and consists of Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana) to furnish tentative blank forms for abstracters use in Ohio, and also copy of certificate and a uniform abstract of title. He sent to the Registrar's office forms used in behalf of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company and also an abstract made for The Standard Oil Company for a small piece of land in this county and passed upon by their attorneys at Cleveland, Ohio, with objections and curative matter as furnished to make the title absolutely gilded, as models for the land office of the Federal Land Bank.

In 1916, under the direction of the Children's Bureau at Washington, D. C., over two thousand communities observed "Baby Week," the churches, the homes and the day schools assisting in the work of instructing parents in regard to the physical care of their babies.

The church realizing that men and women are but children of a larger growth; that cooing in the cradles of today are the men and women of our future—not only the gifted, the wise, the ambitious and the renowned, but the wicked and treacherous, the abandoned prodigal, the faithless husband and wife, the gambler, drunkard and robber, are asking that a "Baby Week" be observed, at which time parents and other adults may receive information which will help them to provide the right religious environment for the children.

The Portsmouth churches will observe the 1917 Baby Week, which is from May 1st to May 6th, and will include one additional day, April 30th-May 6th.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of that week Superintendents of the Cradle Roll, or Primary Departments and their helpers will make a house to house canvass of the city, soliciting names for cradle rolls, marking church preference of the family; making a record of all babies that are already enlisted and their church; invite all mothers and their babies to a party on Friday, May 4th, and ask that all new enrolled babies be presented at the church of their preference on May 6th, to receive Cradle Roll certificates.

On Thursday, May 3rd, canvassers are to turn their reports in to heads of departments, so that the names can be gone over at a meeting for that purpose, which is planned for that evening.

On Friday, May 4th, an informal party will be given, at which time a physician of the city will give the principal address.

The ministers of the city will be asked to preach a sermon on Sunday, May 6th, bringing out Christ's teaching, "Feed My Lambs." At this service there will be recognition and reception of Cradle Roll names and presentation of certificates.

MANY ATTEND HEALTH EXHIBIT IN FULL SWING AT HIGH SCHOOL

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

Special music.

"Industrial Hygiene," Dr. R. P. Albaugh, director division industrial hygiene, State Board of Health.

"The Temple of Moloch," moving picture show.

The exhibit will be open Thursday night but no program will be given on account of the Loyalty Day parade. On Friday Dr. J. R. McDowell will talk at 1:30 o'clock as well as in the evening on "What You Should Know About Tuberculosis."

Dr. F. G. Boudreau will also tell "Important Facts About Common Diseases."

The exhibit is open each afternoon.

Do not put water in cisterns and then pump it out to houses.

Use covered garbage cans. Burn garbage, when possible.

Keep manure in tight, fly-proof bins.

These points were emphasized by W. H. Dittoe, of the State Board of Health in his talk in the High School last night, on "Municipal Sanitation," at the first evening meeting held in connection with the State's Health Exhibition.

Thousands of children swarmed the High School Auditorium, and overflowed, filling the corridors. The first number, the "Bridal Chorus, from the 'Rose Maiden,'" was enthusiastically received, following which a moving picture, "The Error of Omission," was given. It was a plea for birth registration, showing how in one case more care was taken in registering the birth and pedigree of a dog than of its master's own son. The son nearly lost his fortune, his sweetheart and all that was dear to him because of inability to produce records of his birth. One thing which helped him to prove his rights was the inscription on the dog's collar, giving its birthday anniversary, and saying "also a fine baby boy."

The children were dismissed after the picture show and Mr. Dittoe lectured to 500 persons.

The aim of the board, he explained, is to work for prevention, rather than for cure of diseases, and municipal sanitation is a salient means.

"An ample water supply is half the battle, provided it is at the same time pure. The benefits as a whole are realized only if all the people take advantage of it," said Mr. Dittoe. He advised against the practice of putting water in cisterns and then pumping it out. The water is pure when it comes from the mains and no one can tell how much it will become contaminated while standing in the cisterns. "Use the city water direct from the mains," he urged. It is "then pure. Portsmouth's city water meets excellent sanitary requirements."

He also advised against using water from wells and springs of unknown source.

Mr. Dittoe mentioned the inadequate sewer systems in older parts of the city and the new system being installed on the Hilltop, which is good and in time will sewer the entire city, after which there will be no excuse for any person clinging to their makeshifts, in use now.

In urging municipal collection of garbage, he said that it was the householder's duty to provide metal cans. Garbage is excellent food for flies and rats. Stereoscopic slides were shown giving views of methods of disposal of garbage by burning and by reduction. "Garbage and rubbish on dumps also cause breeding places for flies and for disease germs. Manure should be kept in tight, fly-proof bins and disposed of frequently during the fly season."

In his introduction Mr. Dittoe likened the mobilization of forces to fight disease to the mobilization of our country's men to fight a foreign foe, only differing in that men are mobilized to fight a foe who exists for the time being, while resources along public health lines when mobilized fight a constant foe—disease.

Man's Arm Is Almost Torn Off And Skull Is Fractured In A Street Car Accident

HAD ARM OUT OF WINDOW AND IT WAS CAUGHT WHEN ANOTHER CAR PASSED

Having his arm too far out of a street car window may prove fatal to J. B. Ends, who was a victim of one of Portsmouth's most distressing street car accidents Tuesday afternoon, at 4:05 o'clock. Ends is suffering with a fractured skull and his left arm has been amputated above the elbow. He is in Hempstead hospital, having been unconscious since the accident. His condition is dangerous, but he has a fair chance for recovery.

Ends, who is a brick mason, employed on the coke oven construction in Idlewild, was on his way home from work at the time of the accident. He was on west-bound No. 202, in charge of Motorman Robert Strothers and Conductor Wiley Tipston. The car had passed York street on Eleventh street and was nearing Lincoln street, when it passed east-bound car No. 205, in charge of Motorman Chas. Bennett and Conductor Oscar Forinash. Ends was sitting at an open window on the left side of the car. Tired with his day's work, he had his arm lying on the guard rails along the windows, with his head back against the window sill. His arm extended too far out, and was caught by the eastbound car as the cars passed.

With a resounding crash Ends' arm went through the fourth window of the east-bound car. Broken glass flew in every direction. Three Times carriers, passengers on the east-bound car, receiving cuts about the face. The cars were brought to a sudden stop. Ends, with his left arm hanging limp, and blood spattering from his injury, was carried to the office of Dr. C. W. Wendelken, where he was given first aid. Lynn's ambulance was called and he was removed to Hempstead hospital. His arm was torn in numerous places, blood vessels and muscles torn loose. Drs. James W. Fitch and J. D. Jordan amputated the arm just above the elbow. An examination showed Ends to be suffering with a fractured skull, the fracture being just above the right eye. It is supposed that when the arm struck the passing car, the impact threw the man forward, his head striking the window-sill.

Ends has never rallied since the accident. Fellow workmen told his wife of the injury after he had been removed to the hospital. Ends, who came to Portsmouth about two weeks ago from Lynchburg, Va., head back against the window sill. They are rooming at 801 John street.

John Kayser, W. Schlitz and L. Huds were the Times carriers slightly cut by broken glass.
